BIO

I'm a creative geek that loves to work on meaningful projects. Through a ten year long pursuit of my interest in design, I have acquired a vast skillset in visual-, user experience- and motion design. This is potentially best captured on my website, where you will find various projects I undertook as a freelancer and student. Currently, my aim is to work on challenging projects and further develop my skills in motion- and UX design, while making a positive impact on people and the planet. I am looking for a workplace that encourages cooperation and mutual support, where we can share ideas and knowledge.
